

Didier Krux

Fullstack Web3 Developer

Fullstack web3 developer with 20 years of shipping: French newspapers read by millions, startups in Hong Kong, and since 2021 Ethereum. Builds the products that onboard people into Ethereum: event apps, learning platforms, and the tools behind them.

EXPERIENCE

May 2025 – Present
Remote

Fullstack Web3 Developer · Ethereum Foundation, Devcon team

The web apps behind Devcon and Devconnect, the Ethereum Foundation's flagship events.

- Devcon and Devconnect websites, and the event app attendees carry on site: schedule, map, live program.
- Devconnect World Fair, Buenos Aires, November 2025: a week of real Ethereum applications, with in-person crypto payments across the venue.
- Crypto ticket payments through the pretix Ethereum payment plugin (2026).
- Ethereum adoption work with the Argentine community and the wider ecosystem.

May 2021 – Present
Lisbon · Remote

Lead Developer and Co-Founder · Bankless Academy

Free, open-source education platform onboarding people into Ethereum, lesson by lesson, quest by quest.

- Lessons as open-source Markdown compiled at build time; AI translations in 28 languages, re-run only for what changed.
- Onchain quests verified server-side: bridging, a DEX swap, an onchain vote.
- NFT badges on Base, gasless through a smart wallet and paymaster, sybil-resistant with Human Passport.
- Sign in with Ethereum with ENS, Basenames, EFP, and Farcaster profiles; a Farcaster mini app and a React SDK to embed lessons anywhere.
- Progress indexer across lessons and outside achievements; dynamic social images per learner.
- White-label version for partners; lessons built with 1inch, Optimism, Velodrome, Gitcoin, Zerion, and Rocket Pool.
- AI assistant on Discord, Telegram, and X that answers crypto questions and points to the right lesson.
